Permanent Exhibitions

Special Exhibition at the Expo 2005 Aichi Commemorative Hall
Expo 2005 Museum

This exhibition, designed to be enjoyable for children as well, features videos and illustrations that trace the park's transformation from past to present, explore the philosophy and history behind the Expo's development, and highlight various initiatives and their outcomes.

Tree of the Earth
Global Center

In collaboration with Atsumi Sakai, a paper-cutting artist based in Nagakute City, this installation projects paper-cut artworks onto a tree-shaped three-dimensional object using light and video.

Community Garden "Kaze-no-Oka (Windy Hill)"
Rooftop Garden at the Global Center

A citizen-participation project to create a rooftop garden where people and wildlife can gather.

Corridor of Colors
Various Locations in the Park

Students from 12 universities in Aichi Prefecture, specializing in design and architecture, participate in a project to colorfully decorate the park in tune with the seasons.

Palm Time Travel
Various Locations in the Park

A digital stamp rally that takes you on a riddle-solving journey through the park, featuring videos that revisit the scenery of Expo 2005 Aichi.

Co-imagination of Our Shared Future from the Perspective of Human History

July 6 (Sun) Global Center Hands-on Learning Room
1:20 p.m. - 2:00 p.m. (tentative)

The Epic Cosmologies of Indigenous Peoples

Live cultural performances by Ainu artists and New Zealand Māori groups.

2:00 p.m. - 3:00 p.m. (tentative)

Dialogue "Earthwide Encounters: Great Journey" Juichi Yamagiwa & Yoshiharu Sekino (Moderator Tetsuya Inamura)

Dr. Juichi Yamagiwa, a leading anthropologist and primatologist, Director of the Research Institute for Humanity and Nature, shares insights from his decades of research on primates and human evolution. He is joined by Dr. Yoshiharu Sekino, an explorer, medical doctor, and Professor Emeritus at Musashino Art University. He famously retraced the path of early human migration in reverse - from South America back to Africa - using only human power. Together, they reflect on how deep-time journeys and lived experience can guide our thinking toward sustainable futures.

3:10 p.m. - 5:00 p.m. (tentative)

Co-Weaving Our Shared Future Forum IV "Global Challenges and Resilience"

How can humanity navigate the escalating challenges of environmental limits, conflict, pandemics, and natural disasters? This forum brings together experienced professionals, academic researchers, and indigenous knowledge holders to engage in meaningful dialogue on resilience and coexistence in an age of uncertainty. Through these shared conversations, we aim to co-envision pathways toward a more just and sustainable global future.
